HERRICK TO ACCEPT THE POST IN FRANCE

Myron T. Herrick

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6.—Myron T. Herrick has decided to accept appointment as American ambassador to France, a post he filled under President Taft and which he occupied at the beginning of the world war. Mr. Herrick's formal nomination will be made soon and he will go to France in the early summer.

Mr. Herrick, it is understood, was offered the post some time ago by President Harding, but his friends say he was reluctant to accept it because he felt he should devote the remainder of his life to personal affairs.

Since he left the diplomatic service, Mr. Herrick has sustained personal misfortunes which included the death of his wife and a son and more recently was ill himself and went to the Hawaiian Islands in search of health. The principal trouble was an infection in one of his eyes, which, however, has now been cleared up. Beside that, Mr. Herrick's friends point out, he has become interested in business ventures which he felt demanded his attention.

Allies Protest German Action On Kiel Canal

PARIS, April 6.—The council of ambassadors today approved the sending of a note to Germany, protesting against the refusal of access to the Kiel canal last month to the British destroyer Wiltshire, bound for Danzig under charter by a French company, and loaded with war materials for Poland. The protest recalls that the treaty of Versailles declares the Kiel canal shall be free of access to the ships of war and commerce of all nations not at war with Germany.

U. S. DECLINES TO RECOGNIZE ALLIED DECISIONS ON TREATY

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6.—New notes on the subject of mandates have been sent by the American government to the governments of Japan, Great Britain, France and Italy.

The notes are understood to be very similar, but the occasion for preparing them is said to be the receipt of Japan's reply to the original American note protesting against Japanese mandate over the former German islands in the Pacific north of the equator.

State department officials refused to discuss the documents, but it was learned that they were broad enough in terms to cover all American rights growing out of the world war.

The notes from a part of the series begun by Secretary Colby and in which the United States insisted upon its full rights as one of the allied and associated powers and also the right to pass finally upon all mandates before their adoption.

PARIS, April 6.—A note of considerable length from Charles E. Hughes, American secretary of state, has been received by the French foreign office through the American embassy here. The document, which bears the date of April 4, affirms the rights of the United States in all settlements arising from the world war.

Identical communications were sent to the British and Italian governments. It is understood, with notice that the text will be issued at the state department in Washington immediately after all the interested governments have received it.

"Perlinax," without editor of the Echo de Paris who appears to have had access to the note, declares he considers it means that America declines to recognize any decision of the allies in the treaty of Versailles or taken by the supreme council or by the League of Nations. He asserts that this is a grave attitude on the part of the United States.

WORKMEN THREATENED TO ATTACK CHARLES' TRAIN

VIENNA, April 6.—Five hours during the journey of former Emperor Charles to Switzerland from Hungary after his futile attempt to regain the Hungarian throne, was caused by the holding-up of his train last night at Frohltorf, just to the south of Bruck, in lower Austria because of threatened demonstrations against the ex-monarch by the work-

CHARLES PALE AND HAGGARD

BUDAPEST, April 6.—Former Emperor Charles went to the Steinmanger station on foot yesterday, being accompanied by Bishop Miklos and a number of officers, says a telephone message received here from that city.

The former monarch was visibly nervous, pale and haggard. When the guards on board the special train gave the signal for starting Charles re-entered his car, waving farewell, calling out:

"Au revoir my faithful!"

The message received here states the crowd shouted back:

"Your majesty come back as soon as possible!"

A local military band played the Hungarian national anthem and the crowd uncovered and sang the hymn with faltering voices. While the hymn was being sung, Charles descended from his train and stood motionless among the people whom he claims as subjects.

ing men of Bruck.

Several thousand men from the industrial towns in the region gathered at Bruck in the evening and declared they would not let the ex-emperor pass until they had told him what they thought about him and his adventure.

The burgomaster at Bruck stopped the train by a telephone message, while efforts were made by entente representatives and others to dissuade the working men from their purpose.

The workers resisted all pleas for several hours, but the crowd was finally dispersed at one o'clock this morning.

The ex-emperor's train proceeded and at 7:45 o'clock this morning passed (Continued on Page Eight)

Miss Maryon Aye, who says that she's only eighteen, "hone" and "true," is now a leading lady for Larry Semon in his comedies. She was discovered by Roscoe Arbuckle in Los Angeles while she was on a vacation from school. "It's easy to get into the movies," says Maryon. She doesn't tell you, though, that her beauty, grace, pretty figure and ability to take to the different situations had something to do with her rapid rise.

LONG FIGHT IN SENATE OVER KNOX RESOLUTION EXPECTED BY LEADERS

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

WASHINGTON, April 6.—President Harding has passed successfully through the first stages of what had been feared would be an era of domination by the Senate of the acts of the executive. The president has indicated, for instance, that he is not averse to the introduction of the Knox resolution declaring a state of peace between Germany and the United States but that the executive wishes to maintain control of the phraseology of the resolution because of the vital part that it will play in conducting the foreign relations of America in the next few years.

Irreconcilables Still Want To Ride It. The Senate "irreconcilables" who have been from the onset opposed to the league of nations and the treaty of Versailles have shown a tendency to ride their program through with the same anti-league ardor that gave them momentum during the last session of Congress but the shoe is on the other foot now. The Senate on the one hand has its views but the executive has intricate problems to handle in negotiating with foreign governments. Mr. Harding, therefore, is urging that the Senate proceed slowly and do nothing that will take out of his hands a certain freedom of action which the White House and department of state must maintain so as to preserve American rights and conserve American claims growing out of the war.

Resolution Cannot Be Rushed Through. If certain reports were to be believed, especially reports inspired by the irreconcilables who have been filling the ears of former Premier Viviani and his party with anti-league talk, the public might assume that a separate peace with Germany was almost an accomplished fact. The national capital has seen too many plans go awry since the outbreak of the European war to accept hastily the suggestion that the Knox resolution can be "rushed through" the Senate.

Long Debate In Sight. Already the groups are arising to make the debate a prolonged one. The alignment will differ from those (Continued on Page Eight)

New Phase Of Greek Drive To Be Started

ATHENS, April 6.—Entire satisfaction with the military situation in Anatolia was expressed by M. Gounaris, minister of war, upon his return to this city from Paris yesterday.

Prince George, brother of King Constantine, and M. Maximos, director of the National Bank of Greece, accompanied the minister home from the French capital. None of them would explain what had been done by them in London and Paris, except to say that all misunderstandings between Greece and the allies had been cleared up. M. Maximos asserted there was no reason for uneasiness as the country was amply supplied with funds to carry on the war against the Turkish Nationalists for three months without the necessity of outside help.

Resumption of the Greek attack on the city of Eskishehr, southeast of Ismid, Asia Minor, will come in a few days, M. Gounaris told the correspondent. Telegrams to this city from Smyrna say that the second phase of the Greek operations east of that city will open shortly.

ORDER NEW YORK MADE "BONE DRY"

NEW YORK, April 6.—Saloon keepers who derived comfort last night from the fact that despite a widely heralded police drive, "things were as usual," the dispensers of illegal drinks got a shock today when they learned the police drive had not started yet, but would start in earnest today.

A campaign to make New York "bone dry," has been ordered. This time it was Police Commissioner Enright's 11,000 men who are called upon to clamp down the lid and sit on it.

With the signing yesterday by Governor Miller of the state law, putting prohibition enforcement directly up to local authorities, campaign plans were drawn at police headquarters and issued today from the chief inspector's office.

Persons caught violating the new state laws are to be treated as ordinary felons. They are to be arrested, arraigned before a LONDON, April 6.—A hitch developed this evening in the proposed resumption of negotiations between representatives of the striking coal miners and the mine owners, it was announced in the house of commons by Mr. Lloyd George, the prime minister.

He said the miners' federation had just informed him it was unable to see its way clear to instruct the mine pump men (whose duty it is to keep the mines clear of water) to resume work during the negotiations.

Mr. Lloyd George declared it would be quite impossible for the negotiations to proceed unless this obstacle was overcome, and he hoped the members representing the miners would exercise their influence to induce the federation to reconsider its stand on this point.

LONDON, April 6.—Decision to support the British miners in their strike was reached by the transport workers' federation at a meeting held here this morning. The vote taken by the transport workers was unanimously in favor of lending aid to the miners. It was decided to meet in conference immediately with delegates of the National Union of Railway Men and the Miners' Union for the purpose of securing action on the strike situation by the "triple alliance."

At the conclusion of the conference, Robert Williams, general secretary of the transport workers, said:

"On recommendation from the executive committee, the conference has decided to give all assistance in our power to whatever extent necessary to help the miners and at once to enter into negotiations with the railway men and the miners for the purpose of taking joint action throughout the remainder of the contest."

The executive committee went from the conference to the headquarters of the federation to put this decision into effect.

The National Union of Railway Men held a conference this morning, and adjourned at noon until later in the day, when it will hold a joint meeting with the miners. It is probable that following this meeting, there will be a full conference of the "triple alliance."

After the meeting J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the railway men's organization, said: "We are still considering the whole situation."

Serious Disorders In Scottish Town. LONDON, April 6.—Disorders which began yesterday in the coal mining town of Cowdenbeath, in Fife-shire, Scotland, became more serious at midnight last night, and in a series of melees with the police a number of strikers were injured, says a Central News dispatch from Dunfermline. The message states that several policemen were wounded.

The rioters repeatedly broke through the police cordon, and succeeded in cutting electric light wires, throwing the town into darkness. Police reinforcements are being rushed to the scene.

Colonel Chalmers-Jones, former head of the war risk bureau, testified that the work of the bureau was steadily increasing.

"New claims are coming in in excess of expectations," he said. "The reason is that the men are awakening to the privileges they have. They had hoped to pull through without government aid, but found that impossible."

500,000 Affected

LONDON, April 6.—The British National Transport Workers' Federation, which decided to support the miners' strike, includes most of the big water-side workers' unions together with unions catering for seamen, carters and some general labor unions or a part of their membership. In 1919 the federation had a membership of 313,000 workers. With unions which have affiliated with the federation, the total number of persons affected by today's decision is approximately 500,000.

THREE PLANS FAVORED FOR RELIEF OF SOLDIERS

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6.—Three definite recommendations to President Harding had been agreed upon today by the special commission investigating the care and treatment of disabled service men. They were a centralized governmental authority to have entire charge of all federal agencies having to do with soldier relief work. A decentralized administration of service, carrying federal aid as near as possible to the homes of the soldiers throughout the country. A request for additional appropriations for hospitals, including a permanent building program.

Charles G. Daves, of Chicago, chairman of the commission, said he would be greatly disappointed if the public investigation was not concluded today.

"We will begin work on the report in executive session," said he.

Colonel F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the American Legion, expressed pleasure at the progress and conclusions which the committee had reached. He said the three most important decisions conformed to the American Legion relief program and would be of immeasurable value in correcting evils resulting from present divided governmental authority.

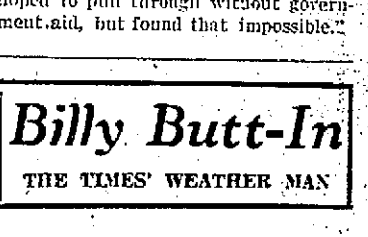

Colonel Chalmers-Jones, former head of the war risk bureau, testified that the work of the bureau was steadily increasing.

"New claims are coming in in excess of expectations," he said. "The reason is that the men are awakening to the privileges they have. They had hoped to pull through without government aid, but found that impossible."

Leisure Time Activities To Be Broad In Scope

A Leisure Time Activities Committee composed of 73 persons representing practically every social agency and club in the city was named last night at the mass meeting held in the high school when organization of such a committee was discussed at some length.

Two persons in attendance were very enthusiastic over the prospect of having a leisure time activities program that will be broad in its scope. Hereafter Portsmouth has only had the playgrounds movement which did not care for young people of the teen age and over.

The start on definite plans for a program of leisure time activities for the community was made by the naming of the general committee and the naming of a program committee. Chairman Frank Appel of the mass meeting appointed the committee last night.

At the meeting a splendid talk on the need and benefits of a recreational program that would take in the entire community was given by Roy W. Wilson, special representative of the national organization Community Service. He is to be here three months to help in the starting of the program. The general committee is composed of the following:

Albert Martin, H. K. Moore, Dr. Gilbert Middelthuis, Prof. H. J. Eccles, Safety Director, Rev. Nathanial E. Butler, Father J. B. McGuirk, Rev. D. C. Belcher, Everett Goody, Wallace Drew, George Carroll, Arthur Bannan, Arthur Kneeland and Mrs. R. S. Kyle.

Chairman Appel appointed the following as members of the Program Committee with the duty of evolving a definite program for this community:

H. K. Moore, Chairman; Mayor W. N. Gableman, Lou Herder, Joe Brennan, Fred Tynes, William Cline, W. L. Belcher, Everett Goody, Prof. H. J. Eccles, Rev. Nathanial Butler, Father J. B. ## Corn Enders

the old sort—and the new

Corn used to be treated by fakery.

But science has found a better way to treat corns. And millions have adopted it.

The modern way is Blue-jay—liquid or plaster. A famous chemist perfected it. This great surgical dressing house prepares it.

Blue-jay is applied by a touch. The corn pain ends instantly. Then the corn is gently loosened. In a little while it comes out.

It is folly to pare corns or to treat them in unscientific ways. This new way is ending some 20 million corns a year. It will end yours any time you let it.

Prove this tonight.

Placing Orders For Equipment For The New Mercy Hospital

Sister M. Blandina, who will be the superintendent of Mercy hospital, Portsmouth, and Sister M. Silverius, who will be the head nurse, arrived yesterday from the Mayo Bros. hospital, Rochester, Minn.

April. Sr. M. Blandina hopes to assemble the furnishings and to be ready for patients before the close of May. The head nurse, Sr. M. Silverius, is a Portsmouth girl, being the sister of Joseph and Kate Prantz of Market street.

Mercy hospital will adopt the advanced methods of nursing as followed in the famous Mayo Bros. hospital at Rochester, Minn.

Mercy hospital is intended to serve everybody in Portsmouth. The sisters will welcome anyone as a patient. The patient may select his own physician and choose his own surgeon and bring in from outside any specialist he may desire. Every doctor and surgeon, who has a diploma to practice, will receive impartial treatment in the use of the hospital, both for themselves and their patients. Sr. M. Blandina desires that the public may have all the benefits from the hospital. Mercy hospital will not be conducted for profit. The Sisters receive no salaries, except food and clothing. They are content to have the hospital be barely self-supporting.

In order that the hospital may be self-supporting, most of the patients will have to pay the usual rates. Charity patients will be accepted, but never in greater number than one-tenth of the capacity of the hospital. The city of Portsmouth will profit greatly by the opening of Mercy hospital. The generous citizens will receive back many times over the value of any gift they may contribute to the starting of this institution for suffering humanity.

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—Please print in your column a remedy for eczema. I have had eczema on my hand for about ten years and if you could tell me any relief it would be greatly appreciated.

A READER OF YOUR COLUMN. You should have a physician treat it; if your present physician hasn't helped it, consult another.

Dear Miss Dolly—Is there any place in town where I can have my trunk repaired? I measure it as a keep-sake and it needs new handles and straps. Also does anyone buy waste papers, magazines, etc.?

It would be advertising to give you the names, but I could suggest a harness shop for the trunk straps and handles. Send an addressed and stamped envelope and I'll mail the names to you.

Dear Miss Wise—Since you have helped so many others I am coming to you with a question. Please answer this in Wednesday's Times, if possible.

Is there any state in the union except Tennessee where a boy eighteen years old can get married without his parents' consent?

Does a boy have to be a resident of Tennessee to be legally married at this age, or can he come into Tennessee from some other state and be married on the same day that he arrives there if he is eighteen?

If he then returned to Ohio or any other state, could his parents annul the marriage?

I want this information to settle an argument with a friend. Any information you can give will be appreciated.

MAKING THANKS. Males can marry in every state without parents' consent at the age of twenty-one, excepting Idaho, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, New Hampshire, North and South Carolina, Tennessee and West Virginia where the age is eighteen years of age. He had better claim his residence in that state where he obtains the license. If he is of lawful age in the state where he is married, the marriage could not be annulled.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a boy of twenty-one and good to everybody.

HOW TO RAISE BABY CHICKS

Put Avicol in the drinking water.

Most people lose half of every hatch, and seem to expect it. Chick cholera, or white diarrhoea is the trouble. The U. S. Government states that over half the chicks hatched die from this cause.

An Avicol tablet in the drinking water will save your chicks from all such diseases. Within 48 hours the sick ones will be lively as crickets.

Mrs. Wm. May, Rego, Ind., writes: "I was losing 10 or 15 chicks a day from diarrhoea before I received the Avicol. I haven't lost a one since."

It costs nothing to try Avicol. If you don't find that it prevents and controls white diarrhoea, chick cholera and all bowel diseases of poultry, tell us and your money will be promptly refunded. Avicol is sold by most druggists and poultry remedy dealers, or send $2 (includes war tax) for a package by mail postpaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 100 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

BILLY WALKER

FRANCIS TREGO MONTGOMERY

"How did you break your leg?" asked Billy when Betty told of her misfortune.

"The elephant was to pick me up with his trunk and carry me around the ring and then set me down on a pedestal in the middle, but he was angry with me for laughing at him that morning when he tried to get up in his stall, but was so big he got stuck. He looked so funny trying to get his leg down that I called him a 'clumsy' and laughed at him. You know he is the largest and the oldest performing elephant now in the ring and he feels so stuck up about it that he won't allow any one to approach him unless in a very subservient manner. When I laughed it offended his dignity and he got angry and said, 'I will punish you for your levity,' which he did by nearly squeezing the life out of me when he was carrying me with his trunk wrapped around my stomach. This not being enough, when he set me on the pedestal he did not wait until I got my balance, but let go and off I fell; doubling my legs under me in such a manner that one was broken. The ring master saw it and gave him two cuts with his long whip, calling him an awkward, clumsy fellow, and told him to be more careful next time. A farmer who was watching the performance saw the elephant hurt me, jumped into the ring and helped to half-lead and half-carry me out."

"When they examined me and found that my leg was broken, the manager said, 'Betty, I am awfully sorry for you, but that will settle your jumping and performing for a long time, so you will have to be left behind.'"

"Leave her with me," said the farmer, "and I will see what I can do for her."

"All right," replied the manager, "she is yours. I am glad that I can leave her with some one who will be kind to her, for she has been a good little thing and has attracted many people to the circus to see her perform in the many years that she has been with us."

"And now you have heard all the particulars about me, suppose you tell me what you have been up to since last we were together and how you ever managed to get so far from Boston. There is one more question I want to ask: Did you find your little wife Nannie that you went back for when you ran away from the circus?"

"Indeed, I did," answered Billy, "and she is here with me and I want you to meet her, for I am sure you will become great friends. What part of the country around here did you come from? I hope it is not so far away but that we can visit each other occasionally."

"My owner's name is Mr. Simpson and he lives about two miles from here out on the main road."

"You don't say so! What luck! for we only live two miles from here out on the same road, and one of Mr. Simpson's pastures adjoins ours. Come along with me to my shed so that you can meet Nannie."

Eastern Star Chapter Praised By High Officials At Inspection

High compliments were paid Portsmouth Chapter No. 424, Order of the Eastern Star last night when the second annual inspection of the order was made by Mrs. Winona Englehart of Loveland, O., and Grand Secretary Mrs. Bessie Boice of Mt. Sterling, O. The inspection officers were more than pleased with the high order of work displayed by the local order which was installed only two years ago and which now boasts of a membership of 432.

Regaled in their new robes for the first time, the degree team made a striking appearance and the manner in which the degree work was given four candidates received compliments on all sides. Inspecting officers said that the work could not be excelled by any chapter in the state.

Chillicothe visitors present at the meeting were so impressed by the work and drill of the degree team that the chapter was extended an invitation to attend the Eastern Star meeting at Chillicothe on April 28, at which time it is likely a special train will be chartered.

At the conclusion of the degree work and inspection, an ice cream and cake course was served in the banquet room. The entertainment committee which had charge of this part of the program consisted of Mrs. George E. Thomas, Mrs. David Wilson, Mrs. Harry Denton, Misses Mary Kah and Mary Margaret Fuller.

There were 254 members of the order present at the meeting including 51 visitors.

The guest list was as follows: J. J. Daniel, Ella C. Hopwood, Charles H. Hopwood, Effie May Andrews, Flora Frank and Len Smith, all of Columbus; Minnie B. Davis, Margaret McMary, Paula Ozlen, Isabelle Johnston, Artie J. Haley, Beatrice Hayes, George C. Hay, Lottie Davies, Eliza C. Fuller, Jennie B. Peters Sr., Jennie B. ## OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

A prominent physician says that by far the largest number of women's ailments are not surgical ones, that is they are not caused by serious displacements, or growths. Symptoms similar in character are often brought about by much simpler conditions. We therefore urge every woman who suffers from backache, headaches, bearing down pains, side ache, irregularities, nervous despondency, or weakness to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It acts as a natural restorative and often prevents more serious troubles.

But It Takes The Women to Appreciate

in its minutest detail what THIS VILLAGE STORE is doing and what it stands for (And we'll hang a tale thereby.)

It Is Thursday

Aunt Mary (Mrs. Si. O. T. County) is preparing to go to "town." As she shakes out the last tea towel, feeds the chickens, and washes out the sink, her busy thoughts flying with her skilled fingers, she stops now and again to add some item of interest to the shopping list on the pantry door.

"There, it's such a nice feeling to know I'll come back with everything on the list, too, and to be sure that each item will be the best—just the same as if I could shop for it in the city, not nearly so much trouble—and no cheap imitations. Let's see; it's been twenty-three years since I've been going regular to Brant's. And they 'kept' there twenty years before that.

"Now, look at that! The baking powder's out again! I'll just put the name of that new one Ellen spoke of that Cousin Frank's wife brot here from the city—C-A-L-U-M-B-E-T. I'm certain to get it. Brant's do appreciate the farmer's trade and get us all the newest things if they are worth the getting.

AN HOUR LATER, Aunt Mary lifted carefully her neat basket of butter from the ear and summoned Mr. Doll, the produce man, to get her case of eggs. She paused a moment to give the window the "once over" and discuss the contents with one of The Village Store girls who met her at the door—"how-dye-do, honey. I was just looking at that soap. VIOLET, TURKISH, BATH, and PALM. It's COLGATES, and 3 for 25c. I see. Don't let me forget a box of it—and a roll of the COLGATES SHAVING SOAP. Jerry's about out. OH! That's their new TALCUM—CHA-MING, and FLORIENT, in the pretty tall cans, isn't it? I have been noticing their ads. in THE JOURNAL. I love new things!

"How many pounds? Same as usual," lifting out the square, golden rolls, wrapped in The Village Store parchment, tang-y of salt and pure rich cream, churned at the right time. 'I'd like to make more; since you've engaged it for me, it's been such fun just to know that it goes to the same folks each time. I met the lady in here last week who gets two pounds of it. 'My list? Here. The underwear—you can give me a 46 Union Suit in that new FITRITE kind you advertised in your country bulletin last week: I'm so glad you got the big sizes, too. 'The 5 yards of APRON GINGHAM? Why, that blue and white check LANCASTER on the third shelf. It never fades and is pretty as long as there's a piece of it.

"Lots of city folks here today, aren't there? What a pretty gingham dress the little lady has on. She got it here? Well, I declare! By the way, I want to see those new BUNGALOW APRONS and GINGHAM MORNING DRESSES you told me about the last time. You said that prices on ready made gingham had advanced 25% since you got them in, four weeks ago. 'The SEEDS? Oh, yes, 3 for 25c, you said, didn't you. And D. M. FERRY'S I know they'll come up. 2 Stone Tomatoes, 3 Early Flat Dutch, 1-2 pound Thomas Laxton Peas; well, you take the list.

"The RUG and CHAIR and WHITE BED. No, I don't want them today. I just want to see about ordering them. I'll look at what you have here and if you don't have just what I am thinking about in stock, Mr. Brant said he'd order it and get it by the time I'm thro cleaning house. I want a SIMMONS bed, and a 10' 3" x 12' WILTON or COLONIAL VELVET rug.

"I see by your bulletin slate up there that you're giving 2c more for EGGS than the stores out our way. Well, mine's all fresh and big: I keep the small ones to eat. What? Oh, Rhode Island Reds. How many did I have? Twelve dozen. At 15c that's $2.16, isn't it? I think it's a fine plan to sort the eggs as you folks do. You're selling for 15c, 20c and 25 this week you said?

"Now, while you're getting the BLUE ROSE RICE, the SUGAR—CANE GRANULATED, please. (I see it's a cent lower this week), the 1-4 lb. of CHASE and SANBORN'S GUN-POWDER TEA, and the SEAL BRAND COFFEE, for percolator, I'll go up front and look at shoes for my boy.

"Yes, this brown Child's OXFORD on the counter. Have you got it in a 1 D? I surely am tickled to get this. Jim Carey got a pair for his little girl at a city department store the other day, and I told Jerry that I'd wager I could get it here. S-I-M-P-L-E-X—that's precisely it. A pretty brown, isn't it? Broad nature toe, wide last, lace oxford. How much? $3.75. Well, now, I call that pretty good!

"Y-e-s, I guess that's all now but the MEAT. I'll see the butcher back here for that. How-dye-do. What have you today? Jerry got some of that Pedigreed Short Horn BEEF in here last week, and I declare I never cooked as nice meat as it was. Mrs. G. Elbert Williams, Jerry's aunt, who lives in town, has been driving out here for all her meat, or letting you deliver it to her. I don't know from experience but she says that the cheap prices advertised by some of the meat shops she knows are for CHEAP cuts, and when you get the fine cuts you have to pay about ten cents on the pound higher than Village Store Prices. She says you even prices up, besides having real COUNTRY THOROUGHBRED STOCK, raised on our Scioto county prize farms.

"What do you get for PORTERHOUSE now? I don't want any but she says she's paying 45c Thirty-five cents! Now, just listen! And the rest? LOIN 30c, RIB ROLLED ROAST 30c, ROUND STEAK 30c, CHUCK 25c, FLANK and BRISKET 10c. Well you may give me a LOIN STEAK. I'm very fond of the tender, white meat.

"Now, give me your prices on PORK. PORK CHOPS 25c, PORK HAM 25c, RIBS 20c, SAUSAGE 20c, SIDE PORK 20c, SHOULDER STEAKS 20c. Well our family likes SIDE PORK fine; I believe I'll take that piece over on the block there. And the SAUSAGE. I was sick and didn't get to put down any this Spring; I'll leave an order for next Tuesday for 25 pounds and send in for it. Now that's all. 'My how I have run on. One'think I never went anywhere or saw anybody to talk to. But it's almost as good as a visit to come to THE VILLAGE STORE. Goodbye, everybody.

Emergency Me

COLUMBUS, O., April 6.—Action on the Dunn bill for the reorganization of state government, which was scheduled to come to a vote in the senate today, has been deferred until tomorrow on account of several errors discovered by Senate Clerk W. E. Talley in the bill as it passed the deduled for passage tomorrow. Administration leaders were confident today of enough votes in the senate to pass the bill as an emergency. Smit to test the right of the senate to pass the bill as an emergency will be filed in the supreme court as soon as the bill passes, it is said.

The senate committee on taxation resumed consideration this morning of the Griswold debt limitation bill. The senate committee has voted to amend the bill so as to permit to issue bonds for the public utilities that water works to be outside the limitations, provided bonds for such utilities are self-sustaining. This was a victory for the advocates of municipal ownership. As the bill passed the house, municipal ownership of other than water works plans would be practically barred.

The senate committee on public utilities reconsidered the Davis bill to enfranchise livery bus lines last night and decided not to recommend this bill for passage at the present time.

The Davis bill to provide for physical education in the schools was on the senate calendar for a vote today. The Boylan bill to authorize state rehabilitation commissioners to confiscate conveyances used for the illegal transportation of liquor was also to come to a vote today in the senate.

All official members are asked to be present.

Herrick Accepts

There was nothing official about it.

but it was explained today the word came just about the same time as administration leaders were suggesting to Mr. Harding that he press Mr. Herrick to accept.

The former ambassador has been considering the offer for several weeks and has just given his acceptance. He has told friends he feels that inasmuch as his own government and such public feeling in France as has been expressed call him he feels that in the present posture of world affairs, he can not neglect what he considers a duty.

In going to Paris again, Mr. Herrick will find himself confronted with personally paying the rent for his embassy building unless some way can be found to meet the expense out of other funds of the state department. One of the provisions of the last diplomatic appropriation bill cut off that expenditure. This was one of the drawbacks to securing Mr. Herrick's acceptance because, contrary to popular belief, he is not a wealthy man, although he has been successful in the conduct of his personal business affairs and he was not convinced that he could afford to provide an embassy himself out of the salary of an ambassador.

Entertainment, which figures as a large expense for an ambassador, probably will be a small one for Mr. Herrick, for he goes to the post practically alone, and with the intention of devoting himself to the problems of the office, rather than the social season.

until it has been made public in Washington. It was learned in official circles today that the communication bears principally upon the action of the council of the League of Nations last December in approving the mandate passed upon at that meeting, including the Japanese mandate over the North Pacific islands taking in the island of Yap, but that it also outlines the policy of the new administration regarding questions arising from the war and declares the approval of the United States to be necessary for a final settlement.

A disposition to recognize the justice of the American claim was indicated in official quarters, although with the reservation that it was scarcely possible to give the United States the right of veto in the settlement of questions which necessarily were discussed in the absence of rep-representatives of the American government.

The reply will probably express the intense satisfaction of the allies if the United States is disposed to resume collaboration with them in the settlement of war questions.

Workmen

ed Bischofshofen, in Salzburg, about 100 miles to the east of Innsbruck. The train is due at the Austrian-Swiss frontier at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

No further incidents disturbing the routine of the journey have been reported up to shortly before noon. Demonstrations on the trip began as the ex-empire crossed the Hungarian frontier, the people assembled at the station singing the Hungarian national anthem. On entering Austria the Hungarians of Charles' suite went through a pretense of handing him over to the Austrian officers. At this the Austrian officials immediately made it clear that Charles was in their custody. After some delay over this incident, which occurred at Fehrling, near the frontier, the train moved off, the Hungarians shouting, "Long live the king!" To which the Austrian station group replied with shouts of "Chlor out!"

According to Arbeiter Zeitung, Governor Klotz, of Styria, actually ordered the provincial gendarmie with machine guns to proceed to Brack to deal with any interference with the passage of the train, but the demonstration there subsided before the detachment could move.

The burgomaster of Brack went to Pöchlitz and inquired if the ex-empire would receive a deputation of the workmen, giving assurances that Charles would be exposed to no danger, but only must have some unpleasant truths. This request was refused by the escorting officials. The accounts state that Charles remained secluded throughout the entire incident.

Long Fight

which were witnessed in the treaty fight and the term "bitter outer" may be substituted by "nationalists". For Senators Borah and Johnson, assisted perhaps by Senator Brandegee, of Connecticut, are strongly opposed to the inclusion in the Knox resolution of a clause which would pledge the aid of America in the event that world peace was again disturbed as it was in the last decade. To one group in the senate this is as obnoxious as anything in article Ten for Senators Borah and Johnson have maintained that American troops ought not to be sent overseas again without the safety of the United States itself is threatened. This opposition cropped up when the Knox resolution was first considered in the Senate foreign relations committee and the famous "paraphrase" was finally eliminated. It is repeated today from the capital by the friends of the Knox resolution and is again the signal for fireworks in the Borah-Johnson camp.

Many Groups To Block Resolution
Opposition to the Knox resolution inside the Republican camp will depend largely on the phraseology but it is certain that there can be no reconciliation between the extreme nationalists on the one hand and those who favor some degree of international cooperation whether expressed in an association of nations or in a general pledge to come to the aid of Europe

She Finds It To Be Splendid As A Spring Tonic

"I'm going to take Tanlac this spring just like I did last year, for its the best medicine to build you up and make you feel fine that ever was made," said Mrs. Margaret Showalter, 65 Sugar Street, Akron.

"Last year I had just a plain old case of Spring Fever and felt like I didn't have energy enough to lift my head. I had no appetite and although I felt tired when I went to bed I got up even more tired in the morning. I got to where I couldn't do my housework and although I tried a number of different medicines I got no better. Tanlac, however, was just what I needed. It was wonderful the way this medicine built me up and made me feel good even to my finger tips. I just took on new life and strength until I was not like the same person."

"Tanalac did so well for me that I have been in the best of health all the year, but now that Spring is close at hand, I'm going to take the precaution of taking Tanlac before I get so run down again. I know there is new strength and energy for me in every dose of Tanlac."—Adv.

if world peace is again menaced. But still another group will fight the Knox resolution, namely the Democratic minority. Senator Underwood of Alabama, Democratic leader, will be back in a few days and will confer with other party leaders as to the policy that will be pursued.

With division in the Republican ranks, the Democrats will be able to hold up indefinitely the passage of the Knox resolution and although they have not decided as yet upon such a course there is some reason to believe that the White House would not be grievously disappointed. If circumstances did arise to stay the hand of the Senate in handling the Knox resolution, the point is that at any time matters of grave concern to America may arise in negotiations with foreign governments which may make it desirable to hold up the Knox resolution and the best illustration of that point is the reputation question.

The reputation question could have passed the Senate. Indeed, Mr. Harding and Mr. Hughes would have asked that it be held up. It was looked upon as a possible encouragement to the Germans at the moment when the allies were doing all in their power to compel Germany to live up to her obligations. Germany's capacity for mischief is by no means exhausted and the entire policy of the United States at the present time is aimed at encouragement of the allies and discouragement of any hope by Germany of evading her obligations through any separate treaty with America. All that can be truthfully said at the moment is that it is susceptible of change as circumstances arise.

The tendency of course is to reject the present league of nations and avoid signing the treaty of Versailles. But even when the Knox resolution is amended so that it simply terminates a technical state of war and repudiates the war time legislation, the task of making peace with Germany becomes a matter for agitation by the executive branch of the government and of subsequent ratification by two thirds of the Senate. The Democrats are able with their membership of more than one third to block ratification of a separate peace. The chances are that there will be defections from both the Republican and Democratic camps and that before our relations with Germany are clarified a long and bitter struggle not unlike the last treaty fight will ensue.

Thirty-Two Percent Of The Peach Buds In Ohio Orchards Killed By Freeze

COLUMBUS, O., April 6.—Thirty-two percent of the peach buds in Ohio orchards which total 2,000,000 trees of bearing age were killed by freezing during the recent cold spell, reports received from 2,000 questionnaires sent out all over Ohio by the bureau of crop estimates show. In various parts of the state the damage ranges in percentage from one to 100. The injury was especially serious in the central and southwestern parts of the state. C. J. West, chief statistician reported today.

Counties along Lake Erie, containing 1,000,000 trees, or one-third of the Ohio total, escaped with slight damage. Lawrence county, the largest peach county south of the lake district with 125,000 trees, suffered a 40 percent destruction of the peach crop, the reports show. In Ross county 94 percent and in Washington county 93 percent of a total of 35,000 trees each was badly damaged. In Columbiana, Fairfield, Licking, Hamilton and other important peach counties the damage ranged from 65 to 90 percent.

Early varieties of apples were hard hit, but winter varieties, especially Rome Beauties, suffered a little. Columbiana with 58 percent loss, reports the highest percent of damage, while no freezing of apple buds is reported from Lawrence county, the largest apple county in Ohio. From 15 to 40 percent destruction is reported from Gallia, Washington, Muskingum, Meigs and others. The average apple crop damage in Ohio was 15 percent.

Negroes Put In Stockade During Night

COVINGTON, GA., April 6.—The "stockade" on the Jasper county plantation of John S. Williams where the state alleges negro farm hands held in peonage, were locked up at night, was described by department of justice investigators here today during the trial of Williams, charged with the murder of a negro laborer.

George W. Brown and A. J. Whitte, the first two witnesses for the state, said they found on the farm a house about 20 or 40 feet long and 25 feet wide with wooden shutters that could be barred. Brown said there were bunks along the walls and evidences that cooking had been done in the house. The two agents were investigating complaints of peonage.

"Williams told me he might have violated the peonage laws, but that he did it unintentionally," Brown said.

Leroy Williams, one of the sons of the defendant, was carrying a pistol the day the federal investigators went to the farm, they said. Clyde Manning, negro foreman at the farm, following the federal agents on the stand and was told by the court he would not have to answer any questions that might incriminate him. The court offered to advise him whenever he asked and E. Marvin Underwood, retained by Williams to represent the negro, also was present.

Farmers Assembled For Most Important Meeting In History Of U. S. Or Any Other Country

CHICAGO, April 6.—The ratification conference on the co-operative grain marketing plan submitted by the farmers' marketing committee of seventeen, assembled here today for "the most important meeting of farmers that the history of our country or any other country has ever recorded," in the words of C. H. Gustafson, chairman of the committee.

Details of the plan prepared during nearly a year of conferences to market the majority of the farm products of the country under the most favorable price conditions were submitted to representatives of the various farm organizations behind the proposal.

"The plan provides purely and simply for the farmer to enter upon a program of conducting his own business of marketing," said Mr. Gustafson. "It is purely a co-operative plan offered in competition with existing unsatisfactory methods of marketing. We believe that while recognizing and protecting the rights of the consuming public, it insures the farmer an equitable and just return on his grain crops by effecting savings, avoiding speculation, preventing needless duplication of effort and eventually stabilizing the market for grain crops."

"We are told that the farmer now receives 34 cents of the dollar that the consumer pays for farm products. There is need to change this ratio. It has apparently been the function of the farmer to produce and then take his chances with market fluctuations and with market conditions where waste, duplication, manipulation and speculation have operated to turn the law and demand upside down."

"Two years ago we had the price of corn changing from $1.50 down to $1.15 and then before the next crop of corn was produced corn went to approximately $2 a bushel. We farmers have come to believe there is something fundamentally wrong with a price determining machine that will function in that manner, and it is time for both farmer and city man to recognize the possible benefits of co-operation."

"In my own experience with the Nebraska Farmers' Union we handled more than $10,000,000 worth of business last year in our livestock commission company alone and returned 50 percent of the commissions to our patrons at the end of the year."

"We do not underestimate the

Doctor Tells How to Detect Harmful Effects of Tobacco Try These SIMPLE TESTS

New York: Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, says: "Many men who smoke, chew or sniff incessantly and who are seemingly healthy are suffering from progressive organic ailments. Thousands of the would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco, and thousands would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco. The chief habit forming principle of tobacco is nicotine, a deadly poison which, when absorbed by the system, slowly affects the nerves, membranes, tissues and vital organs of the body. The harmful effects of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances. One will be afflicted with general debility, others with cough of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will power, mental confusion etc. Others may suffer from heart disease, bronchitis, emphysema, the arteriosclerosis, trouble, hardening of the arteries, rheumatism, blindness or even cancer or the common affliction known as tobacco heart, if you use tobacco in any form you can easily detect the harmful effects by making the following simple tests: Read about on full page in a voice becomes muffled, hoarse and indistinct, and you must frequently clear your throat; it is affected by catarrh and it may be the beginning of more serious trouble. Next, in the morning before taking your usual smoke, walk up three flights of stairs at a regular pace, then stop. If you find that you are out of breath, your heart beat is forced, trembling or irregular, you may be a victim of functional or organic heart trouble. If you feel that you must smoke, chew or sniff to quiet your nerves, you are a slave to the tobacco habit, and are positively poisoning yourself with the deadly drug nicotine. In either case you have just two alternatives—keep on with the self-poisoning process irrespective of the dangers and suffer the consequences, or give up the habit and escape the dangers. You can overcome the craving and stop the habit in a very short time by using the following inexpensive formula. Go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol tablets, take one tablet after each meal, and in a comparatively short time you will have no desire for tobacco. The craving will have left you. With the nicotine poison out of your system your general health will quickly improve."

Note: When asked about Nicotol tablets, one of our leading druggists said: "It is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit; away ahead of anything we have ever heard before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol tablets are sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists, including Flood and Blake. —Adv.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects. All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath. Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

Just received a very elaborate bungalow on the Hilltop, a home so artistically finished and cozily arranged that it cannot help but please those who demand the higher ideas and improvements in home construction. To attempt to describe this home would be futile. To appreciate it you would have to see for yourself. It contains 6 attractive rooms, with a living room extending entirely across the front of the house, dining room, kitchen, sun parlor and screened in back porch all on the first floor. ## THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 6.—Shorts again found it expedient to cover their positions in popular issues at the opening of today's stock market. Oil, steel and motors were the dominant features. General Asphalt, California Petroleum, Crude Oil, and Republic Steel and Chandler Motor mounted 1 to 1 1/2 points in early dealings. Sears-Robinson and Famous Players featured the stronger specialties and Twin City Rapid Transit, ordinarily one of the most inactive stocks, made an initial gain of 4 1/2 points. Sumatra Tobacco, yesterday's most reactionary stock, was subjected to renewed pressure with Royal Dutch. Rails were dull but firm, notably Grangers and Pullman.

Irregular tendencies were shown by Mexican Petroleum and Atlantic Gulf, but the market otherwise held or increased its early gains. California Petroleum, common and preferred, Pan-American Petroleum, Standard Oil, Chandler and Goodrich were in further demand at gains of 1 to 2 points. Vanadium and Sloss-Sheffield were added to the stronger steel and American Locomotive, Baldwin Locomotive and Chicago Pneumatic Tool registered the higher equipments. American Smelting, common and preferred, rose 1 and 3/4 points respectively and American Woolen, International Paper, Industrial Alcohol, Eliott-Tillotson featured the firm specialties. Exchange was strong, especially British and Italian rates.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO, April 6.—New low price records for the season were reached today by breadstuffs. July delivery of wheat and both May and July delivery of rye went under any previous maximum. Opening prices, which varied from 1/2 cent decline to 1/2 cent advance, with May 1.25 to 1.27 and July 1.09 1/2 to 1.11 1/2, were followed by losses all around and then by a reaction to about yesterday's finish.

CORN

Corn reflected the changes in the wheat market. After opening 1/2 cent lower, including May at 59 1/2 to 59 3/4, the market underwent an additional sag and then recovered. Prices closed unevenly, 1/2 cent lower to 1 1/2 cent advance, with May 1.30 to 1.32 1/4 and July 1.12 to 1.12 1/4.

OATS

Oats were easier with other cereals, starting 1/2 cent down, with July 38 1/2 to 38 3/4, and declined a little more before beginning to react.

Weakness in the hog market led to a setback in provisions. The market closed firm, at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/2 cent higher, with May 50 1/2 to 50 3/4.

IN MEMORY OF
H. C. Morton

Brother thou wast mild and lovely;
Gentle as the summer breeze,
Pleasant as the fire of evening
When it floats among the trees.

Dearest brother thou hast left us,
Here thy loss we deeply feel;
But 'tis God who has bereft us
He will all our sorrows heal.

Yet again we hope to meet thee,
When the tale of life is fled;
And in heaven we hope to greet thee
Where no farewell tear is shed.

THU GRANDMOTHER,

The famous morality play, "Everywoman," has been made into a motion picture and will be shown at the Columbia Theatre for three days beginning tomorrow. The story is declared to have been filmed on an exclusive Irish scale and to abound in beautiful settings, lovely women attired in handsome gowns, and spectacular effects. Against this extraordinary background, Walter Browne's celebrated allegory of life and its temptations is acted by an extraordinary cast of players. The role of Everywoman is played by Violet Hoffman, a beautiful actress, well known on the stage and the screen. Monte Blue has the part of Love. Wanda Hawley is Beauty, and Theodore Roberts is Wealth. Others in the company include Margaret Loomis, Mildred Leonard, Bebe Daniels, Irving Cummings, Raymond Hatton, Noah Beery, Chas. Ogle and Tully Marshall. The picture was directed by George El. Melford and is released as a Paramount Arctcraft photoplay.

Jesse L. Lasky Presents
"Everywoman"

"Everywoman," The Big Special Paramount Feature At The Columbia For Three Days, Starting Tomorrow, Is Without Doubt One of the Best Pictures Ever Shown to a Portsmouth Audience.

Every woman loves beautiful gowns and in "Everywoman," the film version of the famous morality play, which is coming to the Columbia Theatre tomorrow, a multitude of the fashionable "modistes" most modern creations are shown. In the opening scenes of the picture, before it becomes a purely symbolical story of life itself, a bazaar is shown that is declared to be a veritable fashion show. The gowns are exquisite and of varying character. Evening cosettes of the finest of materials are featured of the gaming room, palace of wealth, and other ornate scenes. Walter Browne's famous story of Everywoman and her search for Love is said to have been given one of the most spectacular settings ever shown on the screen. Besides Miss Henning, the cast includes Wanda Hawley, Theodore Roberts, Bebe Daniels, Monte Blue, Irving Cummings and Raymond Hatton. George Melford directed the picture. It is a Paramount-Arctcraft production.

"ONE MAN IN A MILLION"

Blanche Sweet
"THAT GIRL MONTANA"

One of the Screen's greatest Westerns is at the Exhibit Theatre tonight for the first time in "That Girl Montana," from the novel by Marah Ellis Ryan and starring Blanche Sweet. "That Girl Montana" was a plucky kid.

She dressed as a boy. She cheated at cards. She robbed stage coaches. But her father forced her to do that.

Once free from him, and going it alone, she fought the baser natures of those pioneer seekers, like a maddened wild cat.

She decided that the man at whose camp fire she cooked, would take her with "no questions, no explanations."

"That Girl Montana" is a western classic, faithfully adapted from the popular novel by Marah Ellis Ryan.

Blanche Sweet, who plays "Tana" has reached dramatic heights never before attained. Robert Thornby, who also directed "Half a Chance," has painted it with the wonder spirit of the west.

It will be remembered for the fighting courage of its heroine.

"That Girl Montana" is a love story spun with golden sunshine that will never die.

Special Musical setting by the Eastland Orchestra. Mrs. Spitzer, Director.

"One Man in a Million" the new Robertson-Cole super-special release, which has been heralded throughout the country as the greatest drama ever filmed, will be seen at the Eastland Theatre beginning tomorrow for a run of three days. George Behan, whose reputation as a wonderful character actor is international, appears in the leading role. It took one solid year to make this wonderful film. Mr. Behan personally doing all the work of production and direction after he had written the story. The result obtained justified the time spent.

Several years ago while appearing in his extraordinary stage and screen success "The Sign of the Cross," Mr. Behan conceived the idea for "One Man in a Million."

In the story of the picture we find Mr. Behan in the character of a kind hearted and humble Italian whose mission on earth seems to be the spreading of happiness. Throughout the film the kindly theme is carried in a clever and convincing manner. It was Mr. Behan's idea to spread the code of happiness without making his picture a preaching and with the aid of comedy situations mingled with his highly dramatic moments, he has succeeded admirably.

Humans alone are not entirely responsible for the success of "One Man in a Million." The author fully realizing the value of animals as a medium of conveying ideas, has enlisted the aid of a very funny parrot and a score or more of the most frolicsome dogs you have ever seen. You'll have to see the picture to realize just how wise these "dumb" actors are.

Tris Speaker Is Spiked

CLEVELAND, O., April 6.—Four of the Cleveland American team are on the ailing list, according to advisers received here. The latest to join the hospital rank is Tris Speaker, who was spiked in a game at Mobile Monday. A physician ordered the manager to refrain from playing for several days, but he went into yesterday's game with Mobile as a pinch hitter.

Catcher Niekirk is in Dallas nursing a wounded ankle; Second baseman Wambrecht is out with a fractured arm, and Outfielder Wood has a sore shoulder.

The Indians are enroute to Chattanooga today, where they open a two game series.

Star Ohio State Sprinter May Try Grid Game

COLUMBUS, O., April 6.—Will Lewis Moorehead, star Ohio State dash man, take a whirl at football next fall?

Campus rumors have it that the Toledo speedster will don molehills next fall when the present Big Ten champions take up their 1921 burdens.

In his high school days, Moorehead, who owns a record of 9.45 seconds for the century, was a crack end on the famous Scott High (Toledo) eleven that won national fame.

In a game in Boston, sport writers of the Ithb heralded him as the best looking intercollegiate flanker they had seen in years.

Ray Fisher May Leave Reds

CINCINNATI, O., April 6.—Ray Fisher, Cincinnati National League pitcher, is thinking seriously of leaving the team to accept a position as baseball coach at the University of Michigan.

It was announced in dispatches received here last night. He would take the place of Derrill Pratt, formerly of the New York Americans, who has left the college to join the Boston Red Sox.

Fisher received a telegram from the athletic director at Ann Arbor asking him to come there for a conference regarding terms. Manager Moran has given the pitcher permission to leave the team at Indianapolis tonight to go to Michigan to look over the ground.

If the outlook is satisfactory, he probably will decide to take up the college work at once and give up professional baseball, it is said.

The Reds, on their last lap of the homeward journey, are scheduled to play exhibition games at Indianapolis today and tomorrow, after which they will return to their home grounds for a few days practice before the opening of the championship season next week.

Hummers Defeated

The Buckeyes in the Senior Girls Bowling League last night won three games from the Hummers, who were forced to bowl with two "blinds." The Hummers could not get to the 300 class missing it the first game by one pin. Kress was the bowler of the evening getting a total of 330. The scores:

Refuse To Indict

BALTIMORE, April 5.—The grand jury has refused to indict Jack Dwyer, manager of the Baltimore International, on charges of working on Sunday in a baseball game at Oriole Park on April 3. Efforts to suppress Sunday ball playing here have been so far without success.

Are Ready To Stand Trial

CHICAGO, April 6.—Three of the alleged gamblers indicted in State Attorney Crowe's new investigation of the 1919 world series scandal today advised the states attorney that they are ready to waive extradition proceedings and stand trial.

The three men, Louis and Ben Levi, brothers, and David Zeller, through their attorney, denied the charges made against them. The attorney said they intend to give bail and will come here as soon as they can arrange to do so.

Zeller and Levi brothers are alleged to have operated at Des Moines, Iowa, where they were said to have venerated extensively on the 1919 world series.

AFTER GAMES

The Dayton, O., Parfays, semi-professional champs of the city are planning to play several out of town games this season and would like to book a game with some fast team of this section of Ohio. During the season of 1920 the Parfays won 29 games and lost only two and later defeated these two times. Any local team that would like to book the Dayton nine should write to N. Witte, 3237 Hubbard street, Dayton, stating terms and dates.

WELL WORTH CONSIDERING

INDISPUTABLY war taxes are bearing hard upon industry and so either directly or indirectly upon all individuals. Various propositions have been put forth to lessen the burden, but either they were not practical, or did not commend themselves to the administrative powers, which now completely dominate the legislative. There is one, just broached, however, that though altogether unique in taxation, that, if put in operation, would certainly work acceptably to the main end, distributing a burden that is too heavy to carry in a short time.

This plan contemplates that certain of the most onerous taxes be paid in full, at the time, but the payer receive in return fifty percent of the amount paid in long term government bonds. In a sense, of course, the scheme is broad as it is long, that is to say bonds issued in such a manner would eventually have to be paid and for that taxes would have to be levied, but it would be less of a strain upon the country and upon trade if war taxes were distributed over a long period.

There is this other thing to be considered also. Taxes should be reasonable, just and equitable. America all at once jumped to dizzy heights in that line. To accomplish that we imposed taxes, in many instances that were neither fair nor equitable, a situation that developed out of the haste necessarily involved in devising their manner.

Inherently an income tax is unfair and unjust. Take the excess profit tax for instance. That taxes an individual or an enterprise for what it makes, and not for what it is worth, worse than that the more he or it makes the more it taxes him proportionately. Thus it often befalls that a small concern, making a round profit, though small in actual figures, pays not only more proportionately, but more in the aggregate than the larger concern, making more in total, but less on the percentage of capital invested. Fundamentally the individual or industry that makes $10,000 a year should not pay a higher ratio than one that makes $5,000, how much more unreasonable that the less should pay more than the greater.

The present plan of paying the war debt is inequitable. It spreads little of its effects to future generations, which will share in none of its sorrows, horrors and immediate sacrifices. The people of this generation gave their sons, even unto death, for victory of right. They suffered anguish and deprivation. It is only equitable that posterity should pay a sound part of the debt.

TIME FOR ACTION

COUNCIL will have before it this evening the matter of the local street railway situation, which involves the question of granting higher rates of fare.

This has been up for sometime and we have no blame to attach to council for not deciding it sooner. It is a most perplexing situation and one not to be proceeded with hastily.

At the same time it is quite apparent that the time for decisive action has arrived.

With the larger and informed public sentiment there is the strong conviction that the latest proposals, a sort of half agreement, embraces a proper solution, the most advantageous the city and public can have, if there is to be any street railway at all.

The terms, or charges set forth, that the street railway may make seem just and reasonable, down to the lowest possible limit in fact, consistent with anything like a sufficient service to be rendered.

Indisputably the company is operating at a loss. It can not continue so indefinitely. It must be provided income sufficient to pay cost and leave some margin, both for profit and future emergencies. Any public utility to be safe and continuous must have a charter and an income upon which it can borrow, if it is to be kept in continuous operation and efficiency.

There was a day when our street railway service ranked as the superior of any small city in the country. That was in the days when it made money. Now it is up against high costs and the drain of the automobile and it is not making money, its service is no wise as good as it used to be. That blame is not with it; we are sure the ambition to make it the best of its class exists as undiminished today as when it actually was. It has been a lack of means, an income below expenses.

Practically every street railway in the country has been granted a fare increase. It is hard to understand why Portsmouth's remains the single exception.

What it asks is fair and reasonable, we repeat, as compared with other increases elsewhere, indeed, what it asks for is low, six cents for a single fare, five tickets for a quarter. It promises for that not only improved service, but extended service, a prompt connecting up of the belt line, something that would be of most substantial benefit, especially to railway and mill workers. Gentlemen of council, act.

NEVER THE IMPOSSIBLE

REMEMBER Lloyd George made a very clever speech in parliament the other day. Not that such an effort is unusual with the able Welshman, far from that, do we refer to it, but because in vein it was so much after the American politician and it throws light on a subject in which the whole earth is now more or less in a maze.

The debate was on the infinite subject of the German indemnity and George, replying to criticism of the course, the alleged ineffectiveness of the government in the matter said, in substance, the gentlemen seem not to know you can't extract blood from a turnip. They ask us why we do not proceed to collect forthwith? They forget there is every difference between collecting and paying. Suppose we send one of the gentlemen over to Berlin to take in all the railway fares and the other to Hamburg to take in all the customs duty. Now, we have collected, but have we paid? We've got millions and millions of baies of paper, German marks, but can we bring them over here and when we get them here what are they worth? They would be of no use. It takes 230 now to make one pound sterling, and if we went to collect them that way it would soon require a shipload of them to pay the fare of one of these honorable gentlemen back to this country.

This was his saying that Germany should be compelled to pay every mark she could, but going beyond that and insisting on her paying more, than she could was ruinous to her and to all. Her ability to pay is based upon her resources, material and productive, upon the credit she is able to establish and her labor. The one can not be totally and summarily exterminated and the other exhausted. She must have time and earn sufficiently to pay in gold, or on the same basis, a just valuation on products. This is exactly the position taken by the Wilson administration and the Harding administration adopts it with emphasis.

A Salvation Army Idea

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6.—Two hundred girls in Washington—telephone operators, ex-war workers, store employees, government clerks—are to have a home where they will be able to entertain company in a parlor and where they will occupy rooms sufficiently attractive to make them think of "home" pleasantly. Instead of regarding it merely as a place to sleep.

These things are important to the working girl in the city. Boarding house keepers now find it expedient to rent the parlor as an extra bed room. Sometimes only transients are accommodated, the inference being that the parlor is ordinarily open, but the parlor seems to be perpetually in demand, and the girls have to choose between the front steps and the park as a setting for their evening engagements. As for the attractiveness of typical boarding house rooms, there are all degrees and variations of the "bedroom set" with a chair, waste basket, and a marble top table, added to make the room homelike, but generally the effect is not cheering.

From these two evils, 200 Washington girls are to be delivered after the following plan. The Salvation Army, which has for its motto, "Meet the Need," saw a need for more and better rooms for working girls in Washington. The government is still running its dormitories for government clerks. But this is an emergency measure that may be legislated out of existence at any time. Then, too, the government dormitories are for government employees only.

The telephone company here had its war dormitories, too, where its employees were housed. But these are now being closed, so that about 50 girls a week are having to find other quarters. Then there are the other girls who have not been eligible for any of the dormitories or who never got off the waiting lists.

Some of these girls have been sleeping on cots, three and four in a room, and this supposedly emergency condition threatens to extend well into peace times. Prices are still on a war basis and large rooms are still held at rates that make it necessary for three or more girls to divide the expense.

In this situation, the Salvation Army saw a need for a home where at least a few of the girls who wanted a home atmosphere could be taken in. The Dwyer, a small hotel in a desirable and convenient neighborhood, was bought already furnished, and was opened for business last week with most of the 120 rooms taken.

Major J. G. McGee, who is in charge of Salvation Army work in Washington, explains the plan for running it as follows:

No Rules

"Our whole idea is to establish a home for these girls—not a home in the sense of an institution, but of a residence. So we call it a residence for young women. There are to be practically no rules, because we feel that a long list of typed rules hung up everywhere is apt to antagonize people so that they begin to think about the things that are forbidden and want to do them. When the girls ask about rules, we tell them that this is a residence and they are to conduct themselves just as they would in their own homes.

"One of the first inquiries of applicants for rooms is invariably about a standing block at most of their lodging places. We tell them that they can entertain men in the parlors until 11 o'clock, and they look relieved and say, 'Oh, that's all right. That's late enough.'

"We have no regulations as to when a girl must be in at night. Several of the girls work until eight o'clock at the telephone exchange. They get dinner down town after that, and if they go to a moving picture show occasionally they might not get in before twelve. We would not want to take in a girl who stayed out until early morning every night, but we know that the girls must have amusement."

A high officer of the Salvation Army who stopped off in Washington last week summed up the aim of the residence and the policy of the management when he said "There must be no lack of courtesy, nothing left undone that will make for the comfort and happiness of our guests."

Ever since plans for the home became known, Major McGee has been kept busy explaining the details to girls who want rooms. The prices for room and board average about the same as the government dormitories, except that there is a wider range of prices at the residence for young women. A few of the more expensive rooms are still vacant, but it is believed they will soon be rented. The Salvation Army has established similar residences in New York, Cleveland, Chicago, and Los Angeles, and there are always waiting lists of applicants in these cities.

Serve For The Sake of Service

The residence is expected to be self-supporting, but not profit-making. If it is found that any profits remain after expenses are paid, the surplus is to be put back into the project to pay for improvements, or else the rates charged the girls will be lowered.

The residence is a business project, but on a philanthropic basis. You can understand that when you know that the Salvation Army officer and his wife who are to manage it will draw a salary of $13 a week—not a penny, but both together. Staff Captain W. H. H. and his wife who saw service abroad in the Salvation Army, both are coming to take charge. "It will mean," said Major McGee, "working all day long 12 hours, 14 hours a day; doing whatever is necessary to meet the need. You can not hire a manager who would work that way. But the army people do it because their one aim is service."

Even since the war, when the Salvation Army made donations famous, people often associate the organization with nothing else but religious services and men who are down, but as the army says, never out. There is a good deal more to the Salvation Army than this. Now, for instance, when many people have left their enthusiasm for war work grow like warm or colder, the Salvation Army is doing two important pieces of work.

For two years and a half it has been sending relays of wounded soldiers to spend two weeks in Atlantic City. Twenty-five or thirty boys from Walter Reed Hospital are selected every two weeks and soldiers in other hospitals of nearby states are also sometimes included in the parties. The boys are provided for from the time they leave the hospital until they return. They are put up at regular quarters, maintained for them, and Atlantic City welcomes them through its citizens by passes to the movies, invitations to dinner, and automobile rides.

The Salvation Army kept this work up for a year and a half after the war and then the war fund ran out. The Salvation Army said that it could not afford to continue, but rather than leave the soldiers' visits stop, Atlantic City voted to put up $20,000 from the city funds to continue the work another year.

Another piece of war work the Salvation Army has just started. This is an offer of service to relatives of dead soldiers whose bodies are being brought to this country, to Arlington Cemetery. Often the relatives of these soldiers are unable to come to Washington to be present at the military interment ceremonies, and the Salvation Army offers to represent them at the services and to write them about it afterwards. Or, if relatives or friends come to Washington for this purpose the Salvation Army says it will be glad to know beforehand, so that it can send some one to meet them and do anything possible to help them during their stay in Washington.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

The Sibley Service, Gallipoli, Ohio
 By W. G. SIBLEY

Jack Frost, Mischief

One night of freezing weather in Oklahoma destroys a fair prospect for eleven million dollars' worth of fruit. The cherries of Nebraska, the peaches of Ohio, the fruits for a thousand miles east and west curl up in the bud or blossom and die in cold, the everlasting enemy of life.

Then the word goes out of a great disaster, and people grow unhappy at the thought of a famine in cherry pies and peach cobbles, those delectable gustatory delights of spring and summer. But late frosts have been robbing fruit trees for generations, and yet there has always been fruit sufficient. The injury is never complete. There is always a substitute for what is lost. We recall the triumphant lines that always bring consolation to the ill-used man:

My neighbor tried to injure me
 By cutting down my apple tree.
 But he did not injure me at all.
 For we had apples all the fall.

While sneaking frosts and unkindly cold snags rob us it is well to remember that somewhere the sun is shining, and that after all "we'll have apples all the fall."

Changing a State's Name

It is proposed that the name of South Dakota be changed to Rosevelt. An unhappy suggestion, in our opinion. One president alone has a state named in his honor—Washington. That distinction should be reserved for the Father of his country. If any other man should have it, Lincoln would be the one. But we want no politics mixed in the names of our commonwealths. Let us keep the Washington's supreme honor.

South Carolina might take a notion to become Calhoun. West Virginia might hanker to be called after some favorite son. This leader to bear the title we already have than fly to others we know not of. South Dakota is sweating under the discipline and loss of credit, her own foolishness brought. Let her recover as Kansas did, by good deeds meet for repentance, rather than by hiding under a new name.

Nevada's New Departure

Nevada has her gas route to Kingston Come for criminals who violate the commandment, "Thou shalt not." It has been officially adopted, and contains some chilling details. The murdered must be gassed not less than sixty nor more than ninety days after sentence has been pronounced. In a cell especially built as a corridor to the Other Side.

The victim of the law will be put away while asleep, it is announced, at some time during a specified week, so he is not likely to retire during that period without a certain consciousness, and if sleep comes to him it may be brief.

We suggest an amendment requiring a sleeping potion in the evening orange pekoe to complete the spirit of the law. If the Nevada murderer has had his "preference" between hanging and shooting as the accelerator of his exit.

All decent people should be in bed by one o'clock, says an eastern moralist. He is right, so far as those whose work is done in daylight are concerned. Social life after midnight may fairly be characterized as the latter the looser. When the clock in the steeple strikes one the man who would live long and prosper must be in bed.

The county work house in Delaware got in the news recently. In it four offenders were led to the whipping post and suffered from 130 lashes.

Abominable. But Delaware is the only moral hazard in the sisterhood of states. Time was when soldiers were flogged in the American Navy. But there are other and more effective punishments.

A South Carolina farmer, experimenting with sugar cane, held $14 an acre on three and a half acres which yielded 1,800 gallons of molasses.

At the next session of Congress a bill was passed providing in the event of the death of the President and Vice President, or other inability of both to act, the Secretary of State should succeed, and if the necessity should occur, the other members of the Cabinet should assume the duties of the presidential office in the following order: Secretary of the Treasury; Secretary of War; Attorney General; Secretary of the Navy; Postmaster General; Secretary of the Interior. ## New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 6.—Westward Ho! Entering Chicago is like one of the "bowery-after-dark-melodramas." Biting shambles with wan faces peering from windows dark with smoke. My dog, cautioned by the La Salle station by getting a neck hold on an Airline in the check room. The honors were given for the Airline opponent's left hand leg.

At the Blackstone for breakfast we were made at home by a New York waiter, who used to serve us during occasional visits at a New York restaurant. He has a wandering foot. "When I'm in Chi," he explained, "I want to be in New York. In New York it is vice versa."

Coming west I lost the upper section of a pair of infatigable pajamas that I had saved for suspicious moments. So I visited a lumberdealer on Hull' Mich and with breezy persunance he talked me into buying a long tailed night shirt because he didn't have my size. I was thankful I had not lost my shoes or I would certainly be wearing the mountainous foot affairs indigenous to these parts. My wife also left in the Pullman room a box containing many things—most important of which were my "Chicago" would say, "Full dress suit," "Chicago" would say, "Full dress suit," "Chicago" would say, "Full dress suit."

Altogether our Chicago sojourn was not pleasant. I was accused of biting my nails at breakfast which prompted me to say, "I'd my own boss and I'll do as I please" or something snappy like that.

It is my conviction that a traveler should have a suit of clothes with only one pocket. When I approached a check room I began to frisk myself.

Chicago has any number of long-haired prophets—leaders of some cult or other. One bare headed and blind was led by a white fox terrier. The dog waited at street corners for the proper traffic whistle and when he reached the opposite curb would bark his thanks to the traffic policeman. Another patriarch was orating from a soap box and looking at me he suddenly exclaimed that the world was coming to an end on the day I was scheduled to reach California. It will just be my luck to have such a thing happen when I am so far away from home and they'll probably find me in my long tailed night shirt.

There is a great bustle about the Santa Fe station as the coast trains depart. Many of the passengers are going west to settle. There are tearful farewells and I witnessed as touching a scene as I ever saw. A husband, evidently in the final stages of a long malady, knelt with his wife in prayer on the station platform before leaving her for Arizona. I don't know why we all thought to remove our hats and bow our heads, but we did.

GO GET HIM!

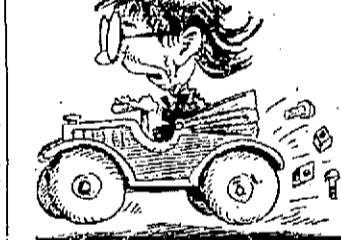

By Paul Young

You're well acquainted with the guy who always has an alibi. He greets you with an outstretched hand.

So nice, you feel you can't demand a show-down right there on the spot. And then he shoots a lot of not Alibi's business, that prevents his paying out a single cent. He leads you on and keeps the floor until he sees you through the door. Then out he bellows with a grin: "The next time you're round, drop in. He's sold you with his alibi. And chances are he'll never buy until you pin him to the mat. And lecture him and show him that he can't afford to be without. The thing you're raising hell about. Unless you do, just bet your gold. You'll always be the one that's sold."

A Sure Sign of Success

"But, my dear sir," protested the poet, "Your versification is atrocious, and your rhymes are abominable."

The Modern S. S. Boy

"When did Moses live?" asked the teacher.

The class was silent, so she said: "Open your books and read the page about Moses. What does it say there?"

After a pause a boy replied: "It says 'Moses, 4000 B. C.'"

"Then, why didn't you know when Moses lived?" demanded the teacher.

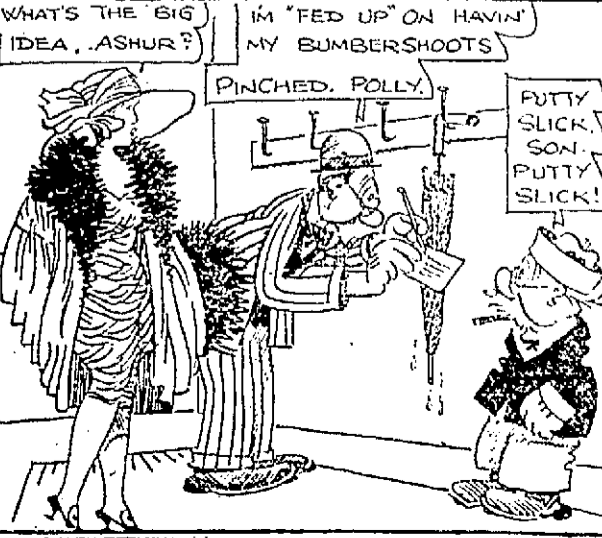

"Well, said the boy, "I thought that was his telephone number."
